HUNDREDS OF ANTIQUE ENGRAVINGS, PORTRAITS, AND SKETCHES LINE THE DOUBLE STAIRCASE. THE FLAMING URNS, ORIGINAL TO THE PALAZZO, ARE STONE PAINTED TO RESEMBLE BRONZE.

Most of the contents had vanished, save for a console table and a rotted umbrella.

THE BALLROOM'S FOCAL POINT IS A PORTRAIT OF FERDINANDO I OF THE TWO SICILIES. CAPRICCIO PAINTINGS BY PIETRO PALTRONIERI HANG ABOVE GILDED SOFAS; CUSTOM-MADE CHANDELIERS.

“The worn paths are preserved,” the owner says, “so the ghosts are always with us.”
